

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS.

The Salt Lake Tribune, under the head of "Hospital for development needed," makes some valuable suggestions in regard to bringing into availability mining property. The same views we have frequently given in our editorial columns, but they will bear repetition. The Tribune says:

"We are satisfied that men of limited capital could go into almost any of the mining districts, and secure interests by furnishing a moderate amount of means for a working capital, and indeed the history of all our mining countries proves that the most valuable interests have been acquired in this manner. Star district, which promises at no distant period to become one of the richest in the Territory, is now mainly owned by men who simply lack money to sink on some of the most promising ledges in the country. It is notoriously the fact that money employed in the development of mines has in a majority of cases yielded better results to the investor than the same amounts employed in the actual purchase of property."

Within a half hour's walk of the center of business in Pioche there are as many as fifty locations, and probably more, in which good fissures are exposed with fair pay ore. The locations are owned by practical miners, who have formed themselves into working companies, some of the members of which work for wages, while others are engaged in developing the property held by them mutually. Mining is a lottery, and while it is not to be doubted that a number of these locations will prove worthless, it is equally certain that others will bring fortunes to their owners. Those disposed to take mining ventures—without and without ventures—will never make a sure investment by securing developing interests in some of these locations than by purchasing any class of stocks outside of the well-established dividend paying companies.

THE FIRST GOVERNMENT TELEGRAPH.—The General Government will soon own and control a telegraph line from San Diego to Prescott and Tucson via Fort Yuma and Maricopa Wells. The arrangements for the construction of the line had about been completed with the Western Union Telegraph Company, when it was discovered that the cost of poles would be greater than at first estimated and upon which their bid was based, and the negotiations were broken off. The appropriation made by Congress for its construction is $50,000, and is found insufficient to cover the cost of a contract, so that it will now be built by the military. That portion of the line between Prescott and Tucson will be built first, and operations will commence without delay. It is expected that a further appropriation will be required to complete the line from Maricopa Wells to San Diego. No contract will be awarded excepting for the supply of material.

HOW TO UTILIZE CONVICT LABOR.—The Gold Hill News says: The losses of the Nevada Consolidated Copper Company in employing a large force of convicts in laying track on the Texas Pacific Railroad. There is cheap transportation in that idea. We need railroads in Nevada, and are keeping 100 men comparatively idle in our prison. Let them build railroads. Probably the Elko narrow gauge would find business for a detachment, and the Virginia and Truckee will use the whole force when they begin to extend southward.

CAPTAIN JACK A CAPTIVE.—The Modoc war is over at last, and Captain Jack, the savage hero, who has given his name an infamous immortality by foully murdering one of the noblest soldiers of the nation, is a captive. There is grim humor in the plea of insanity which is made to shield him from the punishment due for his murderous treachery. We have not the time for extended comment.

THREE FOR THE PLAINS.—The St. Louis Globe says that thirty thousand highland pines, or Scotch firs, have been shipped from Dundee, Scotland, to be planted on the Plains West of the Mississippi. The highland pine is described as being "very hardy, and of rapid growth, and believed to be well suited to the peculiar country for which it is destined."

IMPORTANT EXPLORING EXPEDITION.—We met, on Monday, Mr. Baldwin, who some time ago commenced organizing an expedition for exploring the southern part of this Territory and adjoining regions, with a view to prospecting for, locating and developing mines of various kinds. He had just returned from the east, and the arms, tools, laboratory and materials for the expedition have arrived. He informs us that he has one of the most perfect laboratories in the west, and on the expedition they will assay and test minerals of all kinds that may be discovered. Mr. Baldwin has been appointed deputy United States Commissioner of mining statistics for Utah. He left for San Francisco on Monday afternoon, where he will meet Professor Thomas M. Blossom, of Columbia College, New York, secretary of the expedition. He expects to return in the beginning of next week, and will soon start on the expedition, which promises to be one of the most important yet undertaken in this region, as it is certainly the result of an original idea. [Salt Lake Herald.]

ARTESIAN WELL BORING.—The machinery for boring artesian wells which has been expected for a considerable time, has at last arrived. As previously stated in the News, the proprietors of the city, and his nephew, Mr. Harrison, who has been engaged in the artesian well boring business for the last forty years, during which time he has, we are informed, never failed to find water in any attempt he has made. The site selected for the first operations of the machinery is a short distance north of the Warm Springs, on land belonging to the J. P. R. K. Company. We are informed that the "refusal" of the land when it comes into market. [Salt Lake News.]

THIS MINT.—Gold and silver bullion received at the Carson City Mint yesterday was 10,000 ounces, 2,100 ounces of which was silver bullion sent in from Benton for coinage, and 60 ounces of gold bullion from the Pioche district, to be turned into gold coin. The balance of 7,800 ounces came from the Comstock lode to be melted and assayed. By 10:45 train going East last night, the cashier of the Mint shipped 13 bars of unparted gold and silver, worth together the sum of $10,000, going direct to London, England, to the credit of the Crown Point mine, Gold Hill, Nevada. [Carson Appeal, May 29.]

SILVER BULLION.—At Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office in this city, yesterday, was another stack of those bullion bars which are becoming so plentiful, in spells, that they cease to tempt cupidity—unless where there is strong leverage to hold them up. There were twenty bars of Raymond & Ely bullion, from Pioche, about $22,000 coin value; and eight bars, received yesterday from Walker's Pioneer mill, Ophir, of over $13,000 coin value. The evening previous the Germania works sent in three bars and three boxes of silver, worth nearly $9,000. [S. L. Herald, May 29.]

AMICABLY SETTLED.—Detective officer Rose, of this city, has been absent several days in search of a young man who had seduced a young girl of this city, some five months ago. He went as far as Bullockville and Pioche, and the fact of his return suffices to show that he brought his man, for he seldom fails in such quest. In account of the high respectability of the young girl's connections, all names are withheld, and the matter was amicably and satisfactorily settled by the marriage of the parties. [Salt Lake News.]

IDAHO CITY AND BOISE CITY, IDAHO, are both on the decline. There are many houses vacant and labeled "to rent." No new houses are being erected, and everything indicates dull times and a decrease in the population. The placer mines are being worked by Chinamen, and the quartz ledges require more capital to work them than can be found in the Territory.

DROPPED DEAD.—W. F. Tadbury, a native of England, aged sixty-three, senior member of the firm of Tadbury & Bishop, proprietors of the Virginia Market, dropped dead in front of his place of business, 182 South C street, about 1:35 this afternoon. [Virginia Chronicle, 20th.]

Vallejo, June 1.
This morning the body of a man was found on the west side of Mare Island, about one mile above the foundry, it having washed ashore, with the face so disfigured that identification was impossible; but it is supposed to be the body of Mr. Brown, of Napa, who was either drowned or murdered by Chinamen, when in company with Captain Doane some two weeks ago. He has heavy black whiskers and his hair is slightly sprinkled with gray. Justice O. A. Munn, this morning proceeded to the post and held an inquest on the body. The jury rendered a verdict that it was impossible to identify the body, and that the man died from causes unknown.

LOS ANGELES, June 1.
The body of an unknown man was found near Tecuella, San Bernardino county, a few days ago. It had been dead some three months—age, apparently, fifty years—dark whiskers, front teeth gone—upon his person was found forty-five dollars.

APPELLATE COURT, June 1.
A series of prolonged yells and cheers aroused this camp half an hour after the departure of the last courier. General Davis, General Wheaton, and other officers and all the men rushed from the house and tents to find out the cause of the uproar, and at once the whole camp was in commotion. Down on the level plain, north of the house, a grand cavalcade of mounted horsemen rushed forward at a furious rate and soon neared the groups of spectators scattered about the premises. "Captain Jack is captured," shouted a sturdy sergeant. Again the valley echoed with cheers and yells. The mounted command, that of Captain Perry, returned from a scout of 24 hours. Three miles above the mouth of Willow creek, at 10:30 a. m., the Warm Spring scouts struck a hot trail, and after a brief search the Modocs were discovered. Colonel Perry surrounded the Indian retreat. Suddenly a Modoc shot out from the rocks with a white flag—he met a Warm Spring Indian and said that Jack wanted to surrender. Three scouts were sent to meet Jack; he came out cautiously, glanced about him a moment, and then, as if giving up all hope, boldly came forward unarmed, and held out his hand to his visitors; then two of his warriors, five squaws and seven children darted forth and joined in the surrender. The command that made the scout was the first squadron of the 1st cavalry, Col. D. Perry, composed of troops F, Lieut. Miller, troops H, Major Trumbull, and medical officer, assistant surgeon Devitt; the guards were C. Putnam and H. H. Applegate. Jack is about 40; is 5 feet 6 inches and compactly built; a large, well formed head, and face full of individuality, although dressed in old clothes he looks every inch of a chief. He does not speak to any one. The Modocs are grouped in a field near the house and surrounded by guards. Spectators peer into Jack's face with eager interest, but he heeds them not. Captain Jack presents a most woe-begone appearance. He sat upon a rock in the center of a little lava bed a few yards back of a crest of a bluff and seemed as lonely as his surroundings. He was wrapped in a faded army blanket and his head was buried in his hands. The Modocs say Jack is insane. There is much method in his madness—he sees the end of a rope and is taking advantage of the dodges practiced by sharp whites. Boston Charley and Sonchian are anxious about the disposition to be made of them. The former murdered Dr. Thomas, and the latter mutilated Meacham. Boston Charley and Sonchian look like desperadoes, each carries his character in his face. Boston Charley is about 28 and Sonchian 50 years of age. The boldest warrior of the band is Scar-faced Charley. He is a man of 30 years, quick, wiry and weighing 150 pounds. He takes his name from an ugly scar on his right cheek, which is a relic of a wound received years ago by a stage accident. He is the only warrior who would not cease fighting and lay down his gun at the first sight on Lost river.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2

The application of John Tuers, the minstrel indicted for murder, to be released on bail, was passed upon by Judge Dwinelle to-day. Tuers was indicted for the murder of James Dowling in the Saug saloon, adjoining Maguire's Opera House, some months ago. The fatal shot was not intended for Dowling, who was a friend of Tuers, but was discharged in a scuffle between Tuers and one Henry Howard. Judge Dwinelle in passing on the motion for bail said it was a well established rule of law, if a person makes a murderous attempt upon the life of another, and accidentally kills a third party, his crime is as great as though he killed the party whose life he designed to take. Tuers says he did not intend to shoot his friend Dowling. That has nothing to do with the question of his guilt. The question is, did he intend to kill Howard. The evidence is as clear as it can be that he intended to kill Howard, and having killed another, he must be treated just as though his bullet reached his intended victim, therefore his motion to be admitted to bail must be denied.

He will sell seven millions in gold and will purchase one million in bonds.

General Sherman in conversation continues to emphatically discontinue the request made to the Governor of Texas for the release of Santana and Big Tree. He promised to abolish slavery in Cuba as in Porto Rico, and advocated the separation of church and State. The Cortes then organized by electing Senor Oreuz, a Federal Republican, President.
